

Darrel J. Bostwick - Bio

Darrel J. Bostwick is the principal shareholder of the Salt Lake City, Utah, law firm Bostwick & Price P.C. His law practice is primarily devoted to all aspects of real estate development, construction contracting, claims resolution, construction litigation and construction arbitration. He has litigated and arbitrated numerous cases involving the interests of owners, architects and engineers, general contractors, subcontractors, suppliers and construction managers.

In addition, Mr. Bostwick has consulted with clients and litigated cases regarding labor and employment issues, such as non-competition agreements, wage & hour matters, employee handbooks, drug testing, union and management relations, contractor and trade licensing, Occupational Safety and Health [OSHA] matters, trade-name infringement matters, business organization issues, real estate matters, environmental matters, and insurance coverage issues. Mr. Bostwick has written numerous articles for several publications covering a wide range of topics relevant to the construction industry, and is an experience local, regional and national seminar speaker.

He has authored and co-authored several other works and publications on construction law and claims topics, including a construction law manual and a Utah Mechanic's Lien law manual.

Mr. Bostwick is a member of several construction industry associations and serves on the board of directors and executive committee (Associate Vice President) of the Utah Home Builders Association, the board of directors (Five Star Associate ex officio member) of the Salt Lake Home Builders Association, and the board of directors and executive committee (Utah Chapter Counsel) of the Associated Builders and Contractors of Utah. He also serves as a national trustee of the Associate Builders and Contractors Political Action Committee. Mr. Bostwick has served previously for several years as the Chair of the Construction Law Section of the Utah State Bar.